Re: Social Skills Training Presented by Infinitec

Mid-State Special Education is excited to bring you a free virtual Social Skills training on Friday, November 6, 2020 from 1:00 – 3:00. This training will present evidenced based practices recommended by the National Professional Development Center on Autism Spectrum Disorder including scripting, video modeling, and social stories. Participants will learn about the research behind the evidence based practices and will be guided through practical uses in the classroom and school setting. The target audience includes school social workers, speech/language pathologists, special education teachers and administrators. Even if you have already received training related to social skills this virtual session will provide you with some great reminders about how to best meet the needs of students with social deficits.

Please contact Vickie Throne Vickie.thorne@midstatespec.org or 526-8121 ext. 230 by October 30th to reserve a spot at this free training. You will receive the link to the virtual training the week of November 2nd via email. Please contact Lyn Becker lyn.becker@midstatespec.org if you have any questions.
